Dear Mr Dunn

On behalf of Macmillan Cancer Support I write to thank you, your staff and your clients for raising the amount of £304.67 from your charity year. I would be grateful if you could pass on our gratitude to all who contributed. Without the support of people such as yourselves we would not be able to provide the vital help that is needed and every donation whether large all small helps people affected by cancer.

Your support and generosity will enable us to provide further expert treatment, care and information for cancer patients and help us to meet the enormous challenge of making our services available to all who need them. We helped over 200,000 new patients and their families last year. Now, with four in every ten people facing a cancer diagnosis at some stage in their lives and with long-term survival rates improving, thanks to better treatment and care, more people than ever before will be living with cancer.

Time and time again, patients and their families report that Macmillan's help is vital at a time of great stress. Macmillan gives them confidence and hope to carry on with their lives, in spite of cancer. It is only thanks to people like you that Macmillan is able to make the difference to people like Sam:

"My wife's love and support and my Macmillan Nurse's care and advice helped save my life".

Every contribution really does make a difference.

Yours sincerely

Rachel Herrick
